DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5,7,11,12,13,15,16,18,19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Carkhuff 489'.

Note that the handle in Carkhuff contains both a trigger, which is part of the starting circuit, and a pressure switch 86 which sends an electrical signal to the controller to start the pilot arc, as claimed. See column 8. As per claim 4 means 86 is located in the handle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 6,8-10,14,17 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carkhuff 489'. As per claim note that choice of 12 inches is obvious to the artisan. Note that pressure switch conduit 72 does travel to the electrode area. As per claim 8 no further structural limitations are given and the noise in Carkhuff is considered negligible. Use of contact start is an obvious choice since this type of start and high frequency start are the only two ways of pilot arc generation and both are very conventional. Use of the torch in a robotic welding system is a matter of choice dependent on the end use of the device.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Applicant should note that both the trigger in Carkhuff and the switch 86 in Carkhuff are considered part of the starting circuit and lacking further description of just how much of the starting circuit or just what is located in the torch handle, the claims are met by the Carkhuff teachings.
